

Councillors Want Hospital Clinic And Insurance Scheme

"The position of mayor requires a great deal of time and effort and a great deal of assistance from the council and the public," Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales said on Friday evening following his acclamation as mayor for 1944. N. L. Mathews, K.C., town clerk and solicitor, served as returning officer and then presided over the public meeting that followed.

"It is a position of great honor and great opportunity," said Dr. Dales. "I can see with half an eye a peaceful revolution taking place in the town of Newmarket. These are growing pains. I would advise the council of next year to take heed of these growing pains and to give this movement the response that several years of agitation deserves. It isn't a flash in the pan. I say to the ladies that they have been consistent in their advocacy."

"It is worth-while to remind you of the wonderful war effort of the Newmarket Veterans Association in looking after 186 boys overseas, sending them Christmas parcels and 300 cigarettes every month. Outstanding is the donation of $2,419 this year by the Lions club to war work."

"The Red Cross has obtained 862 blood donations in Newmarket. We salute these donors," Dr. Dales had praise for the war work of the Women's Institute and the Home and School Association.

"Newmarket has subscribed approximately $2,000,000 in Victory bonds," Dr. Dales said.

"The library board, while not a war organization, has been a great instrument in keeping people happy," said Dr. Dales. "The library has about 8,000 books. The circulation is about 21,000 books a year."

"Last year was a banner year for the town financially. Our financial position should be the envy of any town of this size in Canada. The pay-as-you-go policy has been strictly adhered to. We borrowed only $20,000 this year from the bank, and haven't owed the bank anything since June. Interest on bank borrowings once cost the town a mill, but this year only $231. Our current balance is $32,000. Last year at this time it was $12,000."

"We should lend our encouragement and support to every war effort in this town. We are so comfortable in our homes, we should be thankful for a good many things, the strength of our country, the strength and courage of our young people, the wisdom of our leaders."

"I hope that in 1944 Newmarket will see definite signs of progress, willingness to try new plans, tried out elsewhere but new to us."

"Municipal councils must take a forward step in the education and development of the younger generation—something that has been neglected for the almighty dollar. I don't know why the young fellows who walked the highways jobless took up arms in defence of their country. Let Newmarket be a leader in making our town a little better place for the kids and those who come after us."

"In the county council we have adopted a pay-as-you-go policy the same as we have in Newmarket," said Reeve Fred A. Lundy. "In Newmarket this year we have disposed of $700 worth of property assessed at tax sales. The town got the $700 and got the land into the hands of the taxpayers. There are still a number of lots available. "There has been an effort this year to relieve real estate of some of the burden. As you know, there are still a number of social services that the people—particularly the working people—should have, but unless we get more resources from legislative bodies, greater than ourselves it is almost too great a burden on the municipality."

"There has been a very strong committee appointed in county council to deal with a post-war program and also to study some of the social services we should have."

"It seems to be recognized that there will be a great influx of industry from the old world. As I understand it, the British government has established in Canada a trade commissioner whose duty it will be to seek out the best places for industries to be established. I think there should be in a position to take advantage of that, through the county and also doing what we can on our own. That is in the capable hands of Mr. Vale."

"Our local hospital is going to make a substantial addition. The generosity of private citizens is making that possible. I'd like to see the hospital board include space there that will make possible a clinic, so that the working man could pay according to his ability and when emergency arises he will feel free to take advantage of it. When an operation is necessary in a working man's family, it is a great financial blow."

"It gives me an opportunity of expressing to the women who are working so hard to express my appreciation for the work they are doing," said Dr. G. A. C. Guntion, who practises dentistry in Aurora and Newmarket, and was nominated for reeve and deputy-reeve. "It is work that badly needs to be done."

"I am carrying on Dr. Noble's work and will be, I presume, for some time to come. I am just as interested in Newmarket as Aurora. It was once different, but today a splendid spirit exists

IS ACCLAIMED

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales (above), Reeve F. A. Lundy and Deputy-reeve A. D. Evans received acclamations for the 1944 Newmarket council.

COLLEGE BOYS WILL BE AT HOME SATURDAY

Saturday will be parents' and visitors' day at Pickering College. A game with Parkdale Collegiate will open the basketball season.

There will be exhibits and demonstrations by the students in all departments of the school. Newmarket and district people are invited to visit the school during the afternoon, and to attend the play, "Charley's Aunt," in the school auditorium at 7.15 p.m.

VETERANS' CHRISTMAS PARTY IS ANNOUNCED

Newmarket Veterans' Association is planning its annual dance and euehre, to be held in the town hall on Thursday, Dec. 16. Proceeds are for Christmas welfare work.

Fred. Cass is chairman of the committee. Serving with him are Alf. Smith, George Wales, Frank Keats, Alex. McIntosh and Jack Wright.

Rose's orchestra, Aurora, will provide dance music, and ten geese as prizes will lend a Christmas atmosphere.

BLOOD DONATIONS CUT DOWN BY EPIDEMIC

The prevalent epidemic of "flu" and colds took heavy toll of donors when 75 instead of the expected 115 volunteers were able to report at the Red Cross blood donors' clinic last Friday.

In spite of this, the clinic was pronounced a success by Miss E. J. R. Edwards, who said, "We did not spend $1,500 of our budget this year because we could not get road oil. The Lions club, of which I am very proud to be a member, has budgeted $350 for organized playground sports for next summer. This will do away with a lot of this playing on the streets, and will develop athletes and a spirit of good sportsmanship. I am very busy but I have agreed to stand for the duration of the war."

"I have enjoyed tremendously my work as a councillor and intend to run again," said Councillor J. L. Spillette. "If elected I will give you the earnest co-operation I have tried to give you in the past. I think you will all agree that some important subjects are coming before the council. It is apparent from the responsible people in charge of the organizations that the council has to take some action. A public health nurse is one of the questions. The council has not forgotten, but is just looking for the right way to do it. Possibly a clinic would be even better than a public health nurse."

"The post-war program will be before the 1944 council. I think with Mr. Vale that we should make an effort to get industries. If industries are obtained, there will be jobs for our boys when they return. If solid industries come to Newmarket that will pay respectable wages, then and then only will there be no room for collective bargaining, no room for the Congress of Labor, no room for the C.I.O."

"Whoever heads the industrial committee for 1944 should take immediate steps to see about post-war work," said Councillor Joseph Vale. "It is the duty of the town council, of the industrial committee, to see that there is ample work for those boys of ours when they return after the war. They should not be asked to go elsewhere."

"We should seek industries, if they are being established under government help or otherwise. For myself I would be definitely opposed to a county unit of health. I think a public health nurse might be a very good thing, but I think perhaps I'd sooner see a clinic along the lines of socialized medicine."

"I don't think that a public health nurse is just what we need. We need a clinic where everyone could go and get the help they need, that is, socialized medicine."

"It has been a privilege to serve on the council," said Councillor J. A. Perks. "If the electors are

Public Must Choose Six Out Of Seven Council Nominees

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales received an acclamation as mayor for 1944 at the nomination meeting on Friday evening. No one else was nominated.

Fred. A. Lundy as reeve and Arthur D. Evans as deputy-reeve received acclamations when the clock struck nine on Saturday evening, and Dr. G. A. C. Guntion, dentist, nominated for both offices, had not qualified. He was told that he was ineligible because he rented his dental office from the town, and the town was not assessed.

Mrs. A. H. Woods, wife of Major Woods, a company commander at North Bay training camp and a former adjutant at Newmarket camp, received an acclamation for the one-year school board term in the place of Rev. J. A. Koffend, who resigned to become an R.C.A.F. chaplain. No one else was nominated for this office. Major and Mrs. Woods have a daughter, Evelyn, grade X at Newmarket high school and a son, Donald, in grade VIII at Alexander Muir school.

A great number of persons were nominated for the three two-year school board terms, but only three qualified, Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, who has served two years, Rudy Renzies and Norman Williams, both new members.

All six 1943 councillors were nominated and qualified, namely, Frank Bowser, Wm. Dixon, A. V. Higginson, J. A. Perks, J. L. Spillette and Joseph Vale. A number of other persons were nominated but only one, C. Morden Carter, qualified.

Four Seek Three Council Seats In East Gwillimbury

East Gwillimbury township voters go to the polls on Monday to select three councillors from among four nominees.

They are Sam Deans, Holland Landing, market gardener, George Pearson, Queensville, farmer, Kenneth Ross, Mount Albert, merchant, and Alan Shaw, Sharon, farmer.

Voting will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Reeve J. S. Osborne, who is serving this year as warden of York county, was nominated for reeve but did not qualify. Deputy-reeve Byron Stiver was nominated as reeve and qualified.

Councillor George Proctor was nominated for and qualified as deputy-reeve. There was no other nominee for deputy-reeve.

Councillors Shaw and Pearson were again nominated for the council. New men nominated were Mr. Ross, Mr. Deans and Jack Rye. Mr. Rye did not qualify.

Says Some Already Count On New League Failure

"In these modern, highly rationalistic days we are afraid of expressing our emotions," Headmaster Joseph McCulley of Pickering College commented in the course of an address on "Leadership" on Sunday afternoon at a quarterly meeting in the Newmarket Friends church.

"Our task is to rekindle faith, belief," said Mr. McCulley. "The League of Nations failed, not because of organization, but because we didn't believe in it. Already the skeptics and cynics are using that failure to prepare us for further failures."

"Already cynics and skeptics are telling us that the better world we idealists talk of is an illusion. Why? Because human nature is not made that way!"

"If that were true, there could have been no Wat Tyler, no Cromwell, no Voltaire, no Lincoln, no Elizabeth Fry."

Fred Haslam, Toronto, also spoke on leadership and Prof. John Hobart, clerk of the Montreal meeting, spoke in the morning on "Quakerism, Yesterday and Tomorrow."

About 100 Friends were present, mostly from Newmarket and Toronto.

N. L. MATHEWS LEAVES CROWN ATTORNEY JOB

Crown attorney at Newmarket for the past seven years, N. L. Mathews, K.C., has tendered his resignation to the attorney-general, Hon. Leslie Blackwell. Mr. Blackwell has accepted the resignation, which was tendered on Nov. 22, but has requested Mr. Mathews to carry on until a successor is appointed.

Mr. Mathews gave as his reason for resigning the "increasing pressure of business," partly due to the absence of a partner, K. M. R. Stiver, on active service. He offered to carry on for a limited time, pending the appointment of a successor, but said that he would appreciate being relieved as soon as it could be arranged.

Mr. Mathews' resignation will not only permit him to act as defence counsel in the Newmarket police court, but also will free his partners, Miss B. E. Lyons and Joseph Vale, to defend persons charged.

With none of the members of Mr. Mathews' firm free to act as defence counsel, Allan M. Mills being the police court clerk, and Mr. Stiver being absent and also a member of Mr. Mathews' firm since his enlistment, Arleigh Armstrong has been the only Newmarket lawyer who was available to act as defence counsel.

Mr. Armstrong, in view of his past services to the Progressive-Conservative party, is likely to be the new crown attorney.

Gert Larsen Ashes Brought Home For Service Saturday

The ashes of the late Gert Wilfred Larsen, of the Royal Norwegian Air Force, who died in hospital in Scotland on June 9, were brought to Newmarket by a Norwegian air force officer on Friday.

A memorial service will be held at Roadhouse and Rose funeral chapel on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

The Danish consul at Leith, Edinburgh, wrote Gert Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larsen, last June: "I along with members of the Danish colony and merchant navy officers at present in Leith attended the service at Seafeld Crematorium on Saturday, the 12th."

"It was a most impressive ceremony. The coffin of a Norwegian sailor, draped with the Norwegian flag, and the coffin of Gert Larsen, draped with the Danish flag, were carried by Norwegian sailors through the cemetery grounds to the crematorium. The Norwegian colors at half-mast and the detachment of Norwegian sailors preceded the coffins and they were followed by a number of Norwegian officers and the Norwegian naval chaplain. A number of Danish residents and merchant navy officers attended the service."

"During the service the Norwegian sailors with the colors paraded and the naval chaplain, who had come up specially from London, spoke very sincerely, not only for the Norwegian, but also for the Dane, who had joined under the Norwegian flag."

"Capt. Lind of the Norwegian navy laid on each coffin a beautiful wreath from H.M. King Haakon and one from the Norwegian navy. There were also wreaths in red and white colors from Denmark, from the Danish legation and consulate-general, from the Danish council and the Danish recruiting office."

"The ashes are meantime kept at the Columbarium and if you will kindly let me know whether you wish the same sent to Canada or, after the war, to Denmark, same will be done at the expense of the Norwegian government."

Gert Larsen was born in Denmark 20 years ago, was brought to Canada when he was three years old and to Newmarket two years later. He grew up in Newmarket.

Seven Men Seek Three North Gwillimbury Seats

The nomination meeting for North Gwillimbury was held at Belhaven on Friday. The attendance was not large and the meeting proceeded without any of the fireworks which in former days sometimes added interest.

When all nominations were in, Reeve Ross McMillan and Deputy-reeve Harold Glover were without competition, making the third consecutive acclamation for both. Seven candidates appeared for the three council seats and all qualified to stay in the fight. James Nelson and Charles Graham, of the present council, stood for re-election. New candidates entering the field were J. L. Doyle, W. A. King, Murray Munro, Ralph Sedore and Lloyd Stiles.

Several references were made by the speakers of the afternoon to the loss the community had sustained by the death of Councillor John Smith. Mr. Smith had been an active and useful member of the council for several years and always a highly respected citizen.

Reeve McMillan expressed his thanks for another acclamation and gave the audience a review of the township's affairs. He called attention to a substantial increase in the surplus account, a lower general tax rate and an improvement in tax collections. His opinion was that the council's policy of careful spending and getting the township's finances in good shape was correct and should be continued, as the post-war years might bring conditions not so favorable.

Deputy-reeve Glover also told the audience how he appreciated the acclamation given him and endorsed the reeve's remarks.

The candidates for council and the township's affairs addressed brief remarks to the audience. Ex-Reeve Ernest Sprague, who was present, made a few happy remarks. Attention of all the audience was called to the portraits of four North Gwillimbury reeves who had served as wardens of the county. The council had purchased these portraits and had them placed on the walls of the community hall.

Reeve McMillan said that four wardens during the period when these men had served was a remarkable record for the township and said it indicated that the township had been able to produce men worth-while.

Wm. Davidson announced that the Red Cross would be on hand election day with hot coffee and refreshments. The meeting closed with the national anthem.

OPINIONS ARE THE SPICE OF DEMOCRACY

Citizens of Newmarket should pause a moment and say a word of thanks to the members of the town council and public school board who have served the town so well during the past year (and years). Particularly should the town say thanks to two retiring members of the public school board, Frank Bothwell, with 18 years of service to his credit, and R. L. Pritchard, with ten years of service. These men have attended countless meetings, made countless visits to the schools, and have taken an unflinching interest in the welfare of the teachers and pupils.

The mayor, reeve, deputy-reeve and six councillors have all been faithful to their duties during the past year, and have acted for the best as they saw it. The most difficult issue of the year was the question whether or not Newmarket was to engage a Victorian Order nurse. Mayor Dales promised a year ago that the council would contribute toward the cost, and it seemed that, by their silence, most of the other councillors approved of his pledge. Dr. Dales did his best to carry out the promise, and Councillors Spillette and Perks stood by him. It was not their fault that the grant was not made, and the other councillors were entitled to oppose such a grant.

However, it seems inconsistent for these other councillors to oppose a grant for a Victorian Order nurse, something easily within the reach of the town, something which would have proved of considerable help to the people of the town, and then, as they did at Friday night's nomination meeting, to advocate grandiose schemes for a public health clinic at York County hospital combined with a system of insurance which would enable people to pay in a moderate premium in return for whatever medical services they might from time to time need. Such a clinic would be preferable to a public health nurse, but not a substitute for a public health nurse. In fact, such a clinic would probably need at least two full-time nurses, and there would still be need for a public health nurse or V.O.N. nurse to visit schools and homes.

By advocating even more elaborate social services than the public has asked for, these councillors, led by Mr. Lundy, admit the need for medical services, but by their refusal to do the easy, obvious thing and their expressed preference for the grandiose, and presently impossible thing, they make progress impossible. That just makes a game of the trials, worries and toil of the town's mothers. The other day a young Newmarket mother turned her back for a moment and one of the children thrust the baby's leg against a hot stovepipe. Apparently the mother felt she could not afford to call a doctor at a cost of three dollars and so she went in search of a neighbor who knew how to dress a burn. Had there been a V.O.N. nurse she could have called her in for 50 cents, or nothing, if she couldn't afford to pay. That is but one example. There are hundreds of homes where a V.O.N. nurse could give comfort and help. What a god-send one would have been during this "flu" epidemic!

Mr. Lundy talks of "strong committees" at York county council to study social services. York county council has been talking and studying for years, but it just waits for the federal or provincial government to take action. Certainly federal health insurance is coming but the money to pay for it is coming at least partly out of the average man's pay envelope. We can't dodge the cost of these services, whether we raise the money through municipal, provincial or federal government, and when we have health insurance we will still need a public health nurse or a V.O.N. nurse and maybe a couple of them.

While we disagree with decisions made, we still think that Newmarket's 1943 councillors have done a good job and deserve a word of appreciation.

ment. Wm. Harrison was appointed caretaker of the high school at a salary of $500 a year at a high school board meeting on Monday evening. There was only a small attendance at the board of trade meeting in the fire hall last Friday evening. Eggs were 70 and 75 cents a dozen on the market on Saturday. Butter was 50 cents a pound. Dressed chickens were 25 and 32 cents a pound. Mr. Earl Travis, Oakville, spent the weekend in town. Miss Myrtle Clifford of Toronto spent Sunday with Miss Mae Stork. Mr. W. J. Hammell, Bradford, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hammell over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Waldruff and family are visiting in Bradford. Reeve Keith and Deputy Reeve Pearson are attending county council in Toronto this week. MARRIED—In Newmarket, Nov. 27, 1918, Lawrence Symons of Toronto to Miss Dela Wideman, Newmarket.

EDITOR SLIPS FROM GRACE

To while away the minutes of waiting which preceded the 9 p.m. (last Saturday) deadline for qualification by municipal nominees, three members of the 1943 (Messrs. Lundy, Evans and Spillette) Newmarket town council read the editor of this newspaper a lecture for allegedly aiding and abetting some of the ladies of the Newmarket Home and School Association in trying to induce new men to offer themselves for the council.

Their complaint is that it will cost the town $300 to elect one man to the council. The six 1943 (excluding mayor, reeve and deputy-reeve) councillors and one new nominee qualified for election. The public must choose six of the seven. They admitted that the new man nominated was a good man, but they thought that there should either be a number of new candidates or none.

There is a problem there, but have our friends the answer? Should a man nominated for public office not qualify so that he will not cause an election? And if an election is to be avoided by someone refraining from qualifying, would it not be better for one of the present councillors to drop out and make way for a new man? Isn't one new man each year in a council of nine a good idea? But isn't the idea of avoiding an election a mistaken one?

Councillor Wm. Dixon said on Friday evening that he believed in an election and that he would be a candidate if there was an election. On other occasions, other years, he has gone farther and said that he would not be a candidate unless there was a contest.

One of our councillor friends said that he would like to see either 12 contenders for the six council seats or none. Yet there never would be six new contestants if each waited, before qualifying, to make sure that there were going to be five other new contestants. The good citizen, who has been nominated and sees his way clear to serving, will step forward and qualify regardless of what others may do. A year ago two new men qualified for the council in addition to the six members of the 1942 council. One of those candidates was defeated and the other came fourth among the six elected.

At the same time there were six contestants (all new) for three school board seats, and so there were more to vote about last year. This year there were even more nominees for the three two-year school board terms, but it turned out that only three candidates qualified. Perhaps some did not qualify because three had already qualified and the former either did not want to enter a contest or did not want to cause an election. But is that the way to select school trustees (or councillors)? Are the first three or the first six to qualify to be declared trustees or councillors, or should all who feel so inclined qualify and let the public make the decision? Are extra council nominees to wait to see if there is going to be a school board election before they qualify and cause an election, and are extra school board nominees to wait and see if there is going to be a council contest before they qualify? Or should they go ahead and offer their services, as the statutes provide, and let the public make its choices?

Supposing that this year's councillors had announced a couple of weeks ago that they were going to return to office and that they did not want anyone to run against them, so that the town would be saved the expense of an election, they could have been sure of someone to contest every seat on the council. The public might be wrong, just as it may have been wrong when it turned down the two-year term, but this is the way it would have reasoned: "You are going to save us $300, but you handle a business of over $100,000, and if you don't want an election then we do."

Our council friends thought that the brave handful of ladies who attended the meeting, and made quite a few nominations, were "interfering" in town business, were "trying to run the council as well as the school board." As a matter of fact, they did a good job, and it was not their fault that most of those nominated did not choose to qualify.

The quarrel, if there is any quarrel, should be not with those who did attend and did take an interest, but with those who did not attend. We did not make a count, but our guess is that there were possibly three dozen men at the meeting and a little more than half a dozen ladies. It would have been a sorry nomination meeting if the ladies had not been there.

In conclusion, we nominate as Newmarket's best citizens of the week the mayor, reeve, deputy-reeve and six 1943 councillors (inclusive of our three critics) who qualified for re-election, the 1942-43 school board member who qualified, and particularly the candidates who have offered their services for the first time; the three new members of the school board, and the new candidate for the council.

Who IS GETTING NEILSON'S CHOCOLATE BARS?

Perhaps you ask that when you find no "NEILSON'S" on sale. Well, there are many more people today who want Neilson's Bars. Some buy them to send overseas. Many others find Neilson's Bars helpful to "keep them going" at their work. While our output is still very great, we, along with other manufacturers, are working under wartime restrictions on the use of raw materials. So you see it is because of the greatly increased demand for Neilson's Chocolate Bars that they seem to be scarcer than they really are!

In Memoriam

Everleigh—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Ellen Everleigh, who passed away Dec. 3, 1940. Sweet memories will linger forever. Time cannot change them. It's true: Years that may come cannot sever Our loving remembrance of you. Ever remembered by her husband and family.

Menar—In loving memory of my dear husband, Wm. A. E. Menar, who died Dec. 1, 1942. Beautiful memories are all I have left of him. I loved him dearly and shall never forget. Memories are treasures no one can steal; Death leaves a heartache nothing can heal. Loving wife, Mary E.

Menar—In memory of our dear dad, William A. E. Menar, who died Dec. 1, 1942. Dad is gone but not forgotten. Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come o'er us. Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow That lies within the heart concealed. Always remembered by daughters, Velma and Florence.

CEDAR VALLEY BOY WEDS IN TORONTO

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Toronto on Nov. 7 when Rose Ender, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ender, Toronto, became the bride of Sol Cohn, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cohn, Cedar Valley.

The bride looked lovely in a beautiful silk gown, with train and veil. She was attended by Rose Cohn, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Milder, cousin of the bride, both wearing pink gowns, and Sylvia Kashtien, wearing a blue gown. They all wore short veils and carried bouquets. Mrs. Morrier Ender was maid of honor, and wore a blue gown, short veil and carried a bouquet. Morrier Ender, brother of the bride, was best man. Larry Fagen was ring-bearer and Mary Tobias was flower girl and wore a pink dress.

The groom's mother wore a green gown with gold trimming and the bride's mother wore a black and gold gown.

The young couple received many beautiful gifts.

DOUG. HOPE AND BETTY DENNIS WED

A pretty wedding took place in Leaside United church, Leaside, Nov. 20, when Jane Elizabeth Dennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dennis, Newmarket, was united in marriage to Douglas James Hope, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hope, Pine Orchard. Rev. H. A. Mellow performed the ceremony against a background of bronze and yellow mums and palms. C. G. Brown was at the organ and during the signing of the register the bride's brother-in-law, J. M. Wood, sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white mousseline de soie with flower and leaf designs of velvet. Her fingertip veil flowed from a sweetheart satin halo and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses, bouvardia and fern.

Mrs. Harold Dennis was matron of honor in blue silk jersey, with small blue hat and shoulder-length veil. The bridesmaids, Miss Doreen Hardcastle and Miss Betty Hope, sister of the groom, wore rose street-length frocks of torso design small matching hats and shoulder-length veils. Their flowers were large mauve mums set in oak leaves.

The best man was Cecil Gould and the ushers were Jack Whitfield and Doug. McKay, all of the R.C.A.F.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. M. Wood. Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. Hope received, wearing black crepe with red rose corsages.

For a short trip to Hamilton, the bride donned a red princess-styled woolen jersey dress with black accessories, gray tweed coat and a corsage of red roses.

COUPLE WILL LIVE AT MOUNT ALBERT

The United church parsonage at Mount Albert was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Hazel Laurie Marion Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Skinner, Mount Albert, became the bride of Arthur William Kett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kett, Horneville, Ont. Rev. W. H. Burgess performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length powder blue sheer dress with navy accessories and a corsage of forget-me-nots and roses. North York Boys Win Dominion Championship

Sharon Boys' Swine club team, after winning the provincial swine judging championship last week, won the national contest at Toronto with seven provinces competing. The team consisted of Perry Winch, Jr., Keswick, who had the highest individual score, and Ewart Jennings, King, R. R. 3, who stood second, giving the team a total of 55 points over the Alberta team.

The boys were coached by J. D. Moore, who was in charge of the club work during the summer, and Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn.

The boys were presented with a beautiful silver trophy and silver plates at a banquet in the Royal York hotel, Toronto, last Wednesday evening, and the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' Work gave each contestant in the national contest a silver medal.

Following the contests the boys and girls were taken to Niagara Falls, Hamilton and Ottawa, where they visited the experimental farm and were shown through the parliament buildings.

Limit Farmers To 80 Percent Of 1943 Potash

A meeting of the Bradford Marsh fertilizer committee composed of J. Ruppe, Victor Turner, C. Brower, Peter Verkaik, G. Semenuk and L. J. Brooks met in Bradford on Tuesday to discuss fertilizer requirements for the 1944 crop.

Others attending the meeting included E. K. Hampson, regional supervisor of fertilizers, Earl Grose, representing the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., J. G. Breckenridge, assistant agricultural representative, Newmarket, and F. A. Lashley, agricultural representative, Alliston.

The administrator's order regarding the limitation of the use of potash was received. It revealed the maximum potash allowed in mixed fertilizers for the Bradford marsh will be 13 percent for 1944. The analysis for a ready mixed fertilizer will be 2-8-13. However, where chemicals are bought for home mixing the amount of potash sold to any farmer must not make any more than 13 percent potash in the mixture.

The committee learned from the discussion that the amount of potash supplied to any farmer will be 20 percent of the potash used by him in 1943. Additional potash may be supplied where an official soil test has been made by the soils division of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, provided that the extra potash is available. It was stated that applications for use of fertilizers containing potash for new marsh lands not fertilized in 1943 would be given special consideration.

The committee was advised that ammonium phosphate (11-48) will not be available throughout Ontario this year.

In order to avoid delays in delivery and to assist fertilizer firms in getting the materials ready for shipment growers were strongly advised to place orders for 1944 immediately.

It was suggested that all orders should be completed and mailed to the regional supervisor, 85 Collier St., Toronto, not later than Dec. 10. Special forms for this purpose are being mailed to every grower. Additional copies may be secured through the members of the committee.

Growers wishing to have their soil sampled and tested with a view to securing additional potash should advise the committee at once. A great many growers have already had their soil sampling done by an official of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

SEES ACTION

Sgt. Charles Dawson, serving as a member of the special service corps (paratroopers), attached to the American army, has arrived safely overseas, according to a letter received by his mother, Mrs. H. Bank Of Montreal Shows Record Assets

Demonstrating the important extent to which it is participating in the financing of the war, the Bank of Montreal publishes its 126th annual financial statement, showing substantial increases in its main features, with resources at the highest figure in its history. The statement, which is in its customary form, shows assets of $1,315,000,000, which is $138,000,000 above the previous record figure of a year ago.

Profits at $3,302,834 show a slight increase over the figure for 1942 when the bank reported earnings of $3,283,018, and represent 4.30 percent of the capital, reserve and undivided profits, compared with 4.31 percent last year.

Increased taxes have practically offset the effect of enlarged gross earnings. At a figure nearly $750,000 higher than in 1942, the bank's dominion government tax bill for the current year amounted to $2,913,000. Of this amount $165,000 is refundable under the provisions of the Excise Profits Tax Act.

BOYS HAVE BECOME GENUINE ENGLISHMEN

The following interesting letter was received by Mrs. Earl Toole, convenor of the Pleasantville overseas boxes committee, from Tpr. Orley McClure, who has been overseas for two years.

"Here I am at last, rather late, but they say better late than never," writes Tpr. McClure. "I hope you are all well and enjoying good health. For my part I have nothing to complain about or I like getting plenty of rain at the present time. In fact, a lot too much. I can't remember seeing the sun for the last week. I don't mean by that that I am up all night and sleep all day."

"The time has sure passed quickly since we left home. The other day we were talking about two years ago now. We were just leaving home. In some ways it seems only a short time but in other ways it seems as if I have spent most of my life over here. In fact, I think we have become genuine Englishmen. We use a lot of their expressions and some say we talk a little like them. We know the country far better than a lot who have lived here all their lives."

"Here I am writing away and forgetting the lovely box of chocolates that arrived five days ago. They arrived in perfect condition and believe me they really are good. I will be able to tell you a lot better how much they were enjoyed when I get back and can say what I like."

"Thanks a million for everything. You people have certainly done a lot to make life brighter for the boys over here. I feel sure that it is appreciated very much by all. Good luck to all."

Thanks For Splendid Job, Yanks Tell Aurora Boy

The American "Flying Fortress" was plainly in trouble as it struggled back to base, out of formation and with half its tail shot away after a recent daylight raid on Le Bourget. But circling about, like anxious chicks around a stricken hen, were two Canadians Spitfires which saw it safely home.

They were part of an escort of all-Canadian fighter squadrons, commanded by Wing Commander L. V. Chadburn, D.S.O., D.F.C., of Aurora, who that day himself shot down an ME109 from the force of more than 30 German fighters which had attacked the same formation.

"We play a lot with the Americans," grinned Wing Commander Chadburn, as he shoved an official message blank across the desk.

"American bomber crews enthusiastically grateful for splendid cover provided today by your Spitfire pilots," the message read, and it was signed by Brigadier-General F. L. Anderson, commanding general of the bomber command, U.S. 8th army air force.

The lanky youngster with smiling blue eyes, who received that message and led the escorting Canadians, is one of the youngest wing commanders in the R.C.A.F.

He had tried to join the service—any service—right after he graduated in commerce from Northern Vocational school, Toronto, in 1938.

"The Canadian air force wouldn't take me, and neither would the navy or the R.A.F.," he recalls, with a chuckle. "So I went to work. I was in the Bank of Toronto, and a tea company, in Toronto for some time, and was with General Motors in Oshawa when I was finally accepted as an air gunner by the R.C.A.F. in April, 1940."

He soon remustered to "pilot," and since his arrival in England has been credited with eight enemy aircraft destroyed. He has also destroyed one "E" boat, and, getting ambitious, attacked a destroyer with damaging results off the Dutch coast. In August, 1943, he was awarded the D.S.O.

Town May Pay Its New Hydro Power Commission

December is the last month the Aurora town council will have control of the electrical department.

In accordance with the requirements of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission when the present contract was entered into late last year, a Hydro-Electric commission will be elected by Aurora voters the first Monday in January, unless the two-man commission is acclaimed.

One commissioner will sit for a two-year term, the other for one year, thus ensuring a continuity of experienced management on the commission.

The mayor, representing the town council, will be the third member of the commission. A by-law providing for the setting up of the commission will be introduced at Monday's council meeting. Whether or not the commissioners will be paid will also be decided.

Under the chairmanship of Councillor Ross Linton and, previous to that, ex-mayor George Baldwin, the department has improved the service and shown a nice surplus each year.

Church Has Had Only Ten Ministers In 73 Years

St. Andrew's Presbyterian church held its 73rd anniversary services on Sunday. The pastor, Rev. S. W. Hirtle, preached in the morning and Rev. Alexander MacLean, Willowdale, was guest preacher at the evening service.

The choir, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Andrews, gave a splendid program. Frank James was soloist and the Bethesda trio assisted.

Only ten ministers have occupied the Aurora pulpit in its long history. Rev. Walter Amos, the second minister of the church, occupied the pulpit for 36 years.

Other ministers have been Rev. George Bruce, Rev. H. H. Allen, Rev. J. A. Tuer, Rev. James Conn, Rev. Dr. G. S. Eldridge, Rev. George Dix, Rev. Dr. Stanley Glen and Rev. K. J. McCreary.

In 1941 the Aurora church joined the present circuit with the Richmond Hill Presbyterian church.

COAL IS SCARCE!—Wasting fuel by overheating your home is unpatriotic. It has long been recognized that moderate temperatures are better for the health. To ensure comfort, get into warmer clothes rather than pile on more fuel.

Tests show that for every degree over 68° coal consumption is increased 3%. Keeping your home at 68° instead of 76° may save almost a quarter of your fuel.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Newmarket Redmen have stolen the jump on the other armored corps centres by arranging for afternoon practices at Maple Leaf Gardens. The first was held on Wednesday of last week. The Borden centres and Orillia have either to go to Owen Sound, where there is already ice, or await artificial ice at Midland or the natural variety outdoors at Barrie. It would appear that there would be much likelihood of natural ice until near Christmas. Midland arena will be ready for action by next week, and we understand that most of the Borden teams will make use of it.

Donnie Hamilton, former net-minder for Aurora juniors, has made his debut in the nets for Toronto army Shamrocks in the senior T.H.L. commercial series at Varsity and is said to be better than he was during junior days. Hamilton had exceptionally fine style and knew all the angles as a junior but was a bit unfortunate on a good many shots. He must be doing a fine job this season, for the army has plenty of capable custodians ready for duty.

Eddie Malcheske, who played on defence for Aurora army last year, is another Shamrocks player. Malcheske played in the S.P.A. series for Waterloo Siskins four years ago, at which time he was over-age for junior but the O.H.A. did nothing about it, which kept Aurora from a rightful place in the S.P.A. finals.

Jack Culverwell, the evergreen Sutton boy, has again gone to the hockey wars, this time for a Toronto tailoring firm in the commercial series. Culverwell has been performing well over ten years in Sutton Greenshirts, Aurora army, as well as overseas and commercial hockey have all benefited by his skill. What he now lacks in speed he makes up in headiness. Culverwell has always been a clean living fellow, and his whole hockey history is marked by hard play and gentlemanly conduct.

Doug Carr, who played in the Aurora town league last winter for King City and previous to that with St. Catharines senior B team, is playing for C.T.L. this winter. During the summer he caught softball for the championship Richmond Hill team and was a valuable cog in the Ryan machine as understudy to Charlie Case.

Joe Szabo, who centred Brampton army most of last season and was one of the top scorers in the intermediate group, is a team-mate of Carr. We do not know if he has been discharged or is still stationed at Brampton camp.

"Busher" Gibbon, ex-Newmarket Redman junior pukechaser and relief catcher for Charlie Holmes' softballers, is scheduled to play for Tigers, a T.H.L. senior entry. Gibbon is employed on a defence job with a Toronto war plant.

Ran into George Stark, dark-haired Willowsdale boy, who for two years played a battling game on the right boards for Aurora juniors. George is a member of the army medical corps and stationed at Camp Borden, where he expects to play hockey with his unit in intermediate A. He has added quite a bit of weight and should have a good year if his training schedule allows him to remain in Canada this winter. Incidentally, the medical corps goes through some of the stiffest army training imaginable and is no bed of roses no matter what some may think. Practically all of the Aurora juniors of two years ago are now serving king and country. We have mentioned Don Hamilton above, and the rest of the boys are scattered as follows. Navy has Harold Capra and Ken Nash. Pilot Officer Myles MacInnis, Ross Tunbridge, Bruce Stephens and Lloyd Houghton are with the R.C.A.F. With the army are Eric Bilbrough, Sgt. Mervyn Broughton and Del Beaumont. Joe Turnbull is still too young for service.

John Bracken, leader of the Progressive-Conservative party, and former premier of Manitoba, on Saturday displayed human traits too seldom seen in our public men. Mr. Bracken, although engaged in political business of urgency in western Canada, dropped his business over the weekend in time to drive in Toronto to see the East vs. West Canadian football championship epic, and incidentally to cheer for the Winnipeg R.C.A.F. John Bracken has a deep love of competitive sports and for years has followed the fortunes of western teams as they sought the Grey cup. A former rugby player himself, he has never been too busy or high-hat to join the hot polloi in the trek to the stadium, and root himself hoarse. We like to think of our leaders as possessing the human touch, and we know of no place like the bleacher seats, the sidelines or the inside of any sporting arena where the colonel and Patrick O'Grady are brothers under the skin (to paraphrase the old slogan).

Blood donations, we note, are meeting with huge success across Canada, but there are still doubtless many who have not as yet made a donation, either because of indifference or ignorance. The former with our troops giving their all in Italy, and more serious battles to come cannot be lightly regarded, those who act thus are not sportsmen to say the least. Those who have not given a donation because of fear or ignorance should know the story of "Spike" Howard. Howard is a well-known American wrestler and strong man, who for years has worked out of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. He is now 66 years of age and has had hundreds of bouts as well as performing feats of strength on the stage and in sideshows.

This month he gave his one-thousandth transfusion, and over 250 prominent Philadelphia sportsmen were present to see him do so. Spike says he "never sold a drop, and never lost a case." He once gave more than five pints in three days and during an epidemic he submitted to transfusions every day for six weeks. According to his athletic records and his physicians, he is nearly as good a man as he ever was. We do not suggest everyone can do as much in blood doing. The boys in the armed services have a fine record for blood donations, besides being on active service. Those on the home front who have not yet made a deposit in Canada's blood-bank should not hesitate to do so. Italian soldiers have finally won a victory. It was not on the battlefield, however. At Fort Benning, Ga., there is a group of Italian prisoners interned and they have formed a soccer team good enough to trounce their warders 4-1.

Jolinty Gagnon, the famous "Black Cat" of Canadian professional hockey, once line-mate of the late Howie Morenz and Aurel ("Mighty Atom") Jolint, emulating the feat of Frankie Boucher, returned to the ice this season with the Providence Reds. Gagnon had 15 years service in the N.H.L. and retired from action in 1911 to coach the Reds, but the present manpower shortage brought him back to action. He scored a goal too, and an assist in his first start.

Bennie Harris, now with the army in Nova Scotia, who was one of the main cogs in the victory of Sutton Greenshirts two years ago, and before that a standout performer with Toronto Marlboros and Toronto commercial teams, will play his hockey this winter with Truro Bearcats in the Nova Scotia senior league.

Down in the Maritimes too and ready for further rugby action and hockey this winter is an old Aurora favorite, "Popper" Martin. Harold, one of the greatest all-round athletes ever produced by St. Andrew's College, is a sub-lieutenant with the navy at Deep Rock and quarterback for the Halifax navy team.

The Hailgonlans are the first Canadian football team of any importance ever to play in the bluenose sector and coached by Ottawa's "Tiny" Herman with such big stars as Mike Hedgewick, "Scotty" Wright and other Ontario players, have already decisively downed Montreal and Toronto navy entries, and if given a chance may well take the Grey cup. Martin is the only St. Andrew's student ever given permission to play with Aurora juniors and he was one of the finest junior B defencemen we have ever seen. His defence mate, Jack Curtis, is overseas with the army and said to be in Italy now.

Joe Iannarelli, who in a brief tail-end season appearance last winter with Brampton camp, just about annexed the group-scoring title and was one of the main reasons for the defeat of No. 23 B.T.C. in the group semi-finals, will again be with Brampton camp this season and meanwhile is getting into condition as a member of the Bowser A.C. commercial entry. Iannarelli, who hails from South Porcupine, is pure dynamite around the nets.

"Red" Creighton, member of a well-known Peterborough sporting family, prominent in both lacrosse and hockey, will also be seen in action with Brampton camp and, like Iannarelli, is getting in pre-season training licks in mercantile hockey. Creighton plays equally well on defence or forward and was a member of Brampton Bullets lacrosse team.

"Bunny" Glover, former Montreal Royal and last year with Aurora army and a member of this year's Aurora Ordnance softball team, is located at Peterborough camp now and will play for that centre this winter. Still without an arena, Peterborough will carry on in the intermediate series, where that city has been a power for some years. Glover is a member of the provost corps. His home is in Willowsdale.

Hockey Hall of Fame, officially awarded by the N.H.L. and the C.A.H.A. to the city of Kingston, has reached an unfortunate impasse. Both Halifax and Montreal asked to be recognized as the birthplace of hockey. Kingston too laid claim, and with a better organized effort was successful in being recognized. Halifax now is raising funds, with a grant from the city council, to change the verdict. Kingston meanwhile, by playing games against professional teams, has raised some thousands of dollars for a building fund. We heard the veteran, Capt. James Sutherland of the Limestone City make a plea for support for Kingston at the O.H.A. convention.

In place of historical claims, Kingston has wisely enough changed its contention for recognition to the argument that aside from being one of the oldest hockey centres in Canada, it is centrally located in the heart of the dominion and therefore more accessible to all parts of the country. Capt. Sutherland pointed out with force how unfortunate it was that the room in which Confederation was born was located in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, and in place of being a national shrine was seen by only a relatively small number of Canadians in their lifetime. There is little doubt in our mind but that Kingston will have its position sustained.

As a matter of fact in recent years the Maritimes would not have been able to field senior teams without importing players from Ontario and the west. It seems a bit strange to us that Halifax has to depend on the historical researches of a so-called American authority to substantiate its claim. The choice having been made, it would be better for all concerned to put their shoulders to the wheel and erect a suitable edifice and bury the hatchet.

Herbie Cain, by last Friday, had accumulated 15 scoring points, including ten goals in the N.H.L. scoring race, with the season not a third gone, and after years of faithful service appeared likely to see

No. 23 staged quite a comprehensive basketball and boxing tournament under the direction of the Unit Sports Officer, Lieut.
Bob Kennedy, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23. At 1900 hours the Whites and the Reds took to the drill hall floor and dribbled a basketball back and forth until finally the Reds called a halt, having scored 24 points to the Whites' 22.

So many excellent players reported that it will be difficult to pick a team to represent the centre. Callanan, Eldridge, Robertson, Brown and Anison represented the Whites while Vine,
Parsons, Orillia, Kedney, Mc-Donough and Tallin represented the Reds. Captain Kerr was the referee and Cpl. Life acted as scorer.

At 2000 hours boxing began and six fine bouts were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. It is planned to match many of the lads taking part with boxers from other centres and, judging by Tuesday night's performance, it shouldn't be difficult for Newmarket to set the pace. A good laugh was evoked by Man-Mountain Puchini and Pte. "Monster" Little.

In their comedy bout one of the Man-Mountain's wild swings went off the beam and who should be caught in mid-air but our peppery master of ceremonies, Sgt.-Major Johnson.
The Mountain's swing started out alright and laid the little Monster low, but at this point the sergeant-major objected and stepped in to receive the recoil full on the point of the chin.
The result was that the sergeant-major made one of the nicest three-point landings we've seen outside of an airport. The little Monster, after tripping the Mountain, and foully kicking him in the face, was declared, with true British justice, the winner.

The boxers were Myshok at 159 pounds against Wallace at 160; Degazio at 144 against Bryson at 149; Kachuk at 154 against Ward at 151; Desbeins at 153 against Roberts at 156; Crawford at 174 against McNair at 158; and Coneau at 157 against Smith at 160. The announcer and master of ceremonies was Sgt.-Major Johnson; the referee, Sgt.-Major Stewart; the timer, Sgt. Casement and the judges were Capt.
Kerr and Lieuts. Kennedy and Honey.

Tuesday was also the occasion of the visit of two officers to No.
23 to study our Information Room.
During the late afternoon of the 25th, the picture, "So Proudly We Hail," was shown to the entire regiment as a morale-builder. The boys enjoyed the excellent motion picture production very much. In the evening the Alumnae Singers visited the camp and presented a delightful show in the drill hall. It's hoped these lovely young ladies will visit us again soon. At the same time the officers of the centre engaged in their usual Thursday evening bowling. Renfrew's regular weekly report follows:

The Officers' Bowling League is still going along in great style and competition is keen.
Kennedy's Kolts finally bowled in the manner they are capable of and garnered three points to tie them for first place along with Richardson's Ramrods and Morris's Moaners. The Kolts were in there all the way.
Kennedy led the parade with 715 (219-274-222) to win the high three of the night. Padre Hicks has improved greatly and turned in a nice effort in his first game for a 211. He has that inimitable "western" style. Mc-Kenzie tried hard but was getting tough breaks. He was dead on but so were the pins and what looked like nice hits turned out to be "oners."

Robinson couldn't get going in any game until along about the seventh frame, when someone would mention, "Better take another look Robbie," and same Robbie would resurrect the old wallet and after a look would seem inspired.

Cordingley had to get away early, "he's taking singing lessons." It helped the team no end, and he finished up with a nice 237. The Orfuns were more out-lucked than out-played. This gang is quiet but deadly and one has only to note the grim visages to see that they will battle to the last pin. "Curly" Bottrill led the way for the Orfuns with a nice 623. "Jack" Ensson could not get unwound and was below his regular form.

"Ross" Strome really battles in there and may break out any time. "Speed Ball" Large has the pin-boys thinking they are on the front line and when he steps up there is a clearance of legs and arms from the pin boys' angle. "Pete" throws a nice ball (or bullet) and gets some nice games.

"Splints" Bishop rolled in his regular consistent way with a nice 522. As he says, he let his hair down. "Bill" Wood bowled below his championship form, but Bill has his team in there battling along the way and they will be heard from.
Gillespie's Gang (the unassuming team) quietly stepped up and snared two points. The "Adge" Lorne Menzies was well

in there with the score of 579.

The "Old Reliable" Don Hynes rolled consistently, perhaps even brilliantly. "Don" has a nice style and has turned in some nice games and is a "threat" to one and all.

"Doc" Bell and "Tom" Gillespie started off nicely, but relaxed toward the finish. "Steve" Johnstone improved as he went along, as did "Ming" Mingo.
This "Gang" will be heard from,
as they are decidedly, of the battling type.

The "Gunmen" were hampered by not having their full team out, but the "incomparable" Barney Cooper went "all but" and rolled a nice 616. Tom (1830 sharp) George was in there upholding the prestige of the Gunmen by rolling 578.

The "Moaners" were out in force and Morris and Co. looked like they might be the team to beat. Lieut. Hannacher had some bad breaks but was in there battling. "Lou" Grossman "extracted" a nice 606 to take the "plate" for the team. "Bill" Swayze (you know what I mean) started off in a nice manner and laid in a 179 and so on to finally help the good cause with 528.

"Food" Oster has a care-free style that is becoming and is to be reckoned with 559. "Old man Mose" Morris as captain was not to be outdone and finalled a useful 584. Campbell is a nice fellow to have around and would look good on any team. His 541 just turned the trick to give the Moaners three points.

The standing: Kennedy's Kolts, 13; Morris's Moaners, 13;
Richardson's Ramrods, 13;
Wood's Orfuns, 12; Gillespie's
Gang, 10; George's Gunmen, 7.

Manager Art Ross shift Herb to the kid line of teen-agers, "Bep" Guidolin and Don Gallinger. Both youngsters will benefit by Cain's experience and Herb, should not suffer greatly in the scoring race by the change either. The two youngsters can really fly, and besides this the Cowley line was a veritable target for the best checkers of the opposing teams. We know North Yorkers will read with interest the feats of Cain this season and keep their fingers crossed in the hope that no injury may mar
the Newmarket boy's splendid start.
Ernie Hughes, goalkeeper for Newmarket camp last winter, later transferred to Brampton camp, has travelled further afield and is now stationed in British Columbia, where he may get some hockey.

Bobby Burrell, sensational young St. Catharines junior netminder, is slated to guard the nets for Branp-ton this winter. Burrell played goal for St. Kitt's the year "Joint" McComb played junior B there and was plenty good. He has had no chance to break into higher company since junior days because of the host of goal candidates available in his home city.

Bobby Porter, former Toronto baseball player, Balmly Beach footballer and ex-coach of St. Andrew's College rugby team, has joined the R.C.A.F. Porter is a pretty fair hockey player too and may strengthen Joe Primac's R.C.A.F. defence. He is the third St. Andrew's former coach to join the services.

KESWICK LOVED KESWICK LADY, MRS. MARY PURDY DIES

Mrs. Mary Purdy died at her home Sunday night. She was 75 years old.

Mrs. Purdy was a member of the Christian church for many years, and has, in recent years, been a member of the United church. She took an active part in church activities until her last illness.

Mrs. Purdy was also an active member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union for many years. Widow of Silas Purdy, who died some years ago, Mrs. Purdy lived in Keswick most of her life. She was a jolly and popular person. She had been in failing health for more than a year, and spent the last three months in bed.

Five sons survive, William, at home, J. C., Hamilton, Clayton, Toronto, Horace, Long Branch, and Lawrence, Winnipeg.

Rev. Gordon Lapp conducted the funeral service on Wednesday. Interment was in Queensville cemetery.

Sub-Lieut. Thomas Johnston, Halifax, and Sgt. George Alridge, Valleyfield, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baines.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Pollock, noted for Russell, near Ottawa, for the weekend, taking with them Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pearson, who will spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Albert Martt, Russell.

Mrs. George Bache, Newmarket, spending a few days with her sisters-in-law here, owing to the illness of Miss Ina Bache.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mahoney moved to their new home in the village on Monday.

The Red Cross will serve lunches at the polling booth on election day, Dec. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davison entertained Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Grant on Saturday evening for dinner. Miss Zanna Grant, Queensville, was also a guest.

Miss Ella Morton left last week for Sault Ste. Marie and is bringing her aunt, Mrs. Yeomans, back to make her home here.

The Sunday-school room of the United church was well filled to hear the recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Harold Pollard last Thursday.

Rev. Gordon Lapp was the chairman for the evening.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United church and the election of officers will be held on Dec. 9 at 3 p.m. Annual reports are to be made at this meeting.

The mission band will meet next Tuesday directly after school. An interesting program has been planned.

Henry underwent an operation early this week.

Mrs. Perry Morton is still ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rozell and Jack Rozell, Clinton, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Angus King.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Kellar, Bath, were calling on relatives in the district recently.

In an effort to stimulate new interest and to increase attendance the United church Sunday-school is being linked more closely to the morning service of worship. Scholars and teachers are asked to come at 11 for the regular service, which is to take the place of the school's opening session. At 12 o'clock the classes will take their places and at 12:30 come together again for the closing.

The new plan begins Sunday morning. Appealing for a sympathetic, open-minded and prayerful trial of what he described as an attempt to put new life into the Sunday-school. Rev. Gordon Lapp also urged a restoration of the family pew. Mr. Lapp will teach the Bible class, to which parents are invited, while their children are in the various classes.

Next Sunday evening, in the annual Christmas story service at the United church, Mr. Lapp will tell "The Forbidden Christmas Trees" for the children and Bess Streeter Aldrich's "Bible Tapers Twinkle Fair" for the adults.

LIBRARY ADDS 150 BOOKS TO SHELVES

The "tiny tots" have not been forgotten, and a number of stories for the early grades are expected in the near future.

Many new titles for adults have been ordered since early fall, but due to prevailing conditions, delivery is slow. They are coming in a few at a time and will be added when a sufficient number have arrived.
